THE CITY OF WAGGA WAGGA

Wagga Wagga is the largest inland city in the State of New South Wales, with a population of about 55,000 people on an area of some 480,000 hectares. It is the "capital" of the Riverina Region and the major support city for some 200,000 people who live and work in the rich southern agricultural area of the State. Wagga Wagga, a "Garden City" with its excellent facilities, provides an ideal base from which to tour and inspect the technical and general features of the area.

WAGGA WAGGA WINERY

Located just 15 minutes from Wagga Wagga on the Oura Road, you will be impressed by this popular winery. The building is a genuine Australian cypress pine log construction, with an extensive verandah on all sides. The Wagga Wagga Winery is set on seventeen acres of fully established grape vines close to the Murrumbidgee River. A large hand-painted mural by Jerry Willis is truly a masterpiece not to be missed. The Winery is open seven days from 11 am til late. Juicy steaks, marinated chicken, fresh trout and home-made salads are available every day for lunch and dinner - "Best Around Town" - and wine is reasonably

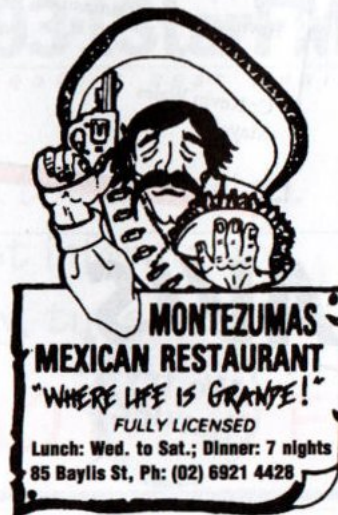

It is impossible to list all points of interest to see around Wagga Wagga, so we suggest that you contact the Visitor Information Centre in Tarcutta Street for further information. They are open 7 days a week from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Some places include:

Phone for bookings on 6922 1221. (Disabled facilities available on premises.) A friendly welcome and your comfort is assured with full airconditioning in summer and a massive open fire place for winter warmth. There is also an extensive range of local memorabilia and you can casually dine inside two large bistros or outside in peaceful, sheltered gardens.

HIGHLIGHTS OF THE MONTH

JULIUS CAESAR by William Shakespeare

Director John Bell, Designer Jennie Tate
Lighting Designer Brett Graham, Composer Nick Wales, Resident Movement Director/
Choreographer Gavin Robins
With John Adam, Michael Craig, Christopher Stollery and The Bell Ensemble

The Bell Shakespeare Company is touring a full scale production to Wagga Wagga for the first time in 2001, which has been made possible with increased funding for greater regional touring from the New South Wales Government. "The Company is excited to be able to show audiences in Wagga Wagga the same production of Julius Caesar that is currently being seen at the Sydney Opera House," said John Bell.

Motivated by resentment and envy at Caesar's ever-growing power, Cassius and Brutus plot to assassinate him. Mark Antony, disguising his antipathy to the murder, turns the mob against the conspirators, who flee from Rome in this fast and furious play about the potency of rhetoric and the power of the people.

Director John Bell has created a compelling and nightmarish world where omens and prophecy swirl around as Fascism rises on the back of chaos. Julius Caesar is the play of our zeitgeist.

John Bell is one of Australia's most acclaimed theatre personalities. In a career of acting and directing, John has been instrumental in shaping the Australian Theatre scene as we know it today. Since founding The Bell Shakespeare Company in 1990, his productions have included Hamlet, Romeo and Juliet, The Taming of the Shrew, Richard III and Pericles. His roles for the company include Ulysses, Shylock, Richard III, Macbeth, Malvolio, Coriolanus, Leontes

ADELONG – THE TOWN THAT DOESN'T EXIST

The residents of Adelong awoke on Sunday, March 25th, to read in the Sydney Sun Herald a report that the town of Adelong had been discontinued and will no longer be gazetted under the geographical names act. This came as a surprise to the 900 residents, 550 residential properties and 743 eligible voters of the town of Adelong.

Adelong may not have the estimated 20,000 residents of its former goldmining era, but for a settlement that has been discontinued geographically, most of the town is heritage listed and on the national register, and is classed as a town of national importance and significance.

Adelong has a major transport company, C.J. Dean (now part of Finemores) and a thriving horticultural, pastoral and orcharding industry, while currently a $400 million Visy pulp and paper mill is being built just 10 km from the town which, combined with the other industries, will guarantee the region almost full employment.

All very strange for a town that has been discontinued!

Adelong is a unique and impressive heritage listed township with a rich gold mining past. Travellers will enjoy the country village lifestyle and warm hospitality, visiting the town's galleries, gift emporium, old wares and antique shops.

Take tea in the leafy garden setting of the town's cafes, dine in style in heritage listed buildings with their elegant restaurants, stay for a night or longer and be pampered at one of the hotels, elegant guest houses, self-catering cottages or farm stay just a short distance from town.

The town comes well and truly alive at many times of the year, with the Home, Garden and Craft Fair in December, the Adelong Show in March and, this month, the Adelong Antique and Gold Rush Fair. April is also the month to capture the magnificent autumn colours on canvas or film, as dozens of artists will confirm.

A visit to the Adelong Falls and Reefers Battery, with its rich gold mining past, is a must and it's an ideal spot to have a leisurely picnic, or take one of the three signed walks in the surrounding area. This is where one million ounces of gold were taken from the hills and creek and processed from the late 1800s until about 1913. Visitors to Adelong can experience the thrill of finding gold, just as thousands of prospectors did more than 100 years ago. Gold panning can still prove to be quite profitable in the Adelong Creek, which produced more gold than any other in New South Wales.

So get along down to Adelong, just one hour's drive east of Wagga Wagga, for the annual Antique and Gold Rush Fair on Sunday April 29th.

Wiradjuri Walking Track

This track follows a perimeter route of about 30 km with eleven established access points, although you may join or leave the track at many points along the way. The Track Head is at the Visitor Information Centre in Tarcutta Street. The Wollundry Loop, at 10.2 km, is a shorter and more leisurely walk, following the Wollundry Lagoon. The Lagoon, which is inhabited by geese and ducks, is a cool, tranquil spot – pleasant in all seasons. A brochure is available at the Visitor Information Centre.

Historic Buildings Walking Tours

There are three walking tours around central Wagga Wagga, each set by the National Trust and prepared by the Town Planning Department. The first should take about 40 minutes at a casual walking pace, all within the CBD, and includes a number of Wagga's oldest churches and public buildings. The second, about a 60-minute walk, takes in a many of the oldest private houses in the vicinity of the Wollundry Lagoon in the central area of Wagga; while the third is a longer walk – around 120 minutes – and takes you via the Railway Station and some of the High Schools. Information about all these tours is available from the Visitor Information Centre in Tarcutta Street, from where each tour starts.

Discovering Wagga Wagga's Bikeways

Wagga Wagga City Council has spent a certain amount of time and money establishing and upgrading the city's bikeways, and producing a glossy handbook to promote them. The bikeways vary in length from 1 km to 6 km, with some being gravel and some bitumen. There is an easy-to-follow map in the middle, and BMX bikes are also catered for. The handbook is available from the Visitor Information Centre.

Military Sites Tour

The Museum of the Riverina has developed this interesting self-drive tour to a number of military sites around Wagga Wagga, including the Victory Memorial Gardens, the Wagga Wagga War Cemetery, RAAF Base at Forest Hill, the Army

THE TALENTED MR RIPLEY

A play by Phyllis Nagy, adapted from the novel by Patricia Highsmith

Would you rather be a real nobody or a fake somebody? How far would you go to become someone else?

Directed by Ray Goodlass

The University Theatre Ensemble's first Riverina Playhouse production for 2001 is the popular The Talented Mr Ripley. Based on the first in the series of five Ripley novels written by American crime writer Patricia Highsmith in the 1950s it was adapted for the stage by playwright Phyllis Nagy in 1998, coincidentally at the same time as playwright and director Anthony Minghella was writing his screenplay based on the same book. Nagy's play premiered in London in 1998 and Minghella's multi-award winning film was released in 1999.

Tom Ripley, a morally and sexually ambiguous young man, is a small-time American hustler. When a wealthy American couple, mistakenly believing he is a close friend of their son Richard Greenleaf, ask him to go to Italy and persuade Dickie to come home, Tom goes. But instead of bringing the errant offspring home, Tom murders him and takes on his personality and life.

Thus was born one of the most compelling psychopaths of crime fiction. Ripley's pathological lack of guilt is one of the issues explored in this compelling play, which is also characterised by a lack of judgement about the characters. Despite this both the novelist and playwright also "paint an intensely moral picture" said Nagy. "Ripley is in fact a very moral play and what Nagy achieves is to get inside the mind of this unsympathetic anti-hero and bring it out on to the stage. In this sense Ripley isn't a conventional plot driven thriller but a fascinating exploration of motive, structured in an almost cubist format of overlapping scenes and poetic interior monologues, which makes it very theatrical," said Ray Goodlass.

The Talented Mr. Ripley is directed by Senior Lecturer and Course Co-ordinator of CSU's Acting course Ray Goodlass. The cast is drawn from the Third Years of CSU's BA in Acting for Screen and Stage course, and designed and Staged Managed by Third Years from the BA in Design for Theatre and Television.

PLACES OF INTEREST

CHARLES STURT UNIVERSITY

Charles Sturt University was established in 1989, incorporating four campuses at Wagga Wagga, Albury-Wodonga, Bathurst and Dubbo. The University has a rich background in agriculture and education, dating back as far as 1892, when the Wagga Wagga experimental farm was established on the site of the present Wagga Wagga campus.

The University offers more than 300 courses to over 25,000 students from all over the world by both on-campus and external study, 10,000 of whom study at, or through, CSU's Wagga Wagga campus.

A five minute drive north of the city of Wagga Wagga, the University occupies over 640 hectares of stunning Australian bushland and incorporates the University's own award winning winery, vineyard, equine performance centre and farm, and a large variety of residential, educational and recreational facilities for students.

CHARLES STURT UNIVERSITY RON POTTER CENTRE WINERY

The Winery is an integral part of Australia's leading Wine and Food Science school, situated at the Wagga Wagga campus of Charles Sturt University. The Winery was built in 1977 to support the CSU Wine Science teaching program. It was seen as important that the winery reflect the same environment as other commercial Australian wineries, being market driven and producing the quality and styles of wine that obtain ready acceptance from discerning wine consumers in the open market place.

The Enterprise consists of commercial nursery, vineyard and winery, and since 1990 has become a significant contributor to the University. Brand sales have increased from 3,000 cases to 16,000 cases per annum, with the winery increasing its annual crush from 100 tonnes to 800 tonnes. The winery now processes for major Australian wine companies such as Southcorp and Yalumba who have substantial vineyard holdings and grape growing contracts in the region.

The winery focuses on producing its own range of premium table and sparkling wines, but the improved facilities and excellent reputation of the CSU Winery have enabled contract grape processing and wine making for the burgeoning vineyard developments throughout the regions, stretching from Cowra on the Western Slopes of NSW, via the Hilltops region around Young to the cool climate of Tumbarumba in the Snowy Mountains.

Wines from the CSU winery have been awarded 19 trophies, 76 gold, 151 silver and 352 bronze medals in national wine shows since its establishment in 1977.

The Charles Sturt Winery is a producer of premium varietal table wines. It is an integral part of Australia's leading wine science school and as such at the forefront of viticultural practices and wine making techniques.

The winery focuses on excellence, using state of the art technology without sacrificing tradition. Enjoy our wine in moderation and be part of Australia's winemaking future.
